

Your Auctioneer This Evening:

Kelly Russell is a Professional Benefit Auctioneer who loves the energy and generosity at benefit auctions. She provides consultation to Non-Profits to create customized events that maximize revenue and create community participation and awareness. A firm believer in FUN, she insists that every guest have a great time and, of course, the opportunity to fully support their favorite organizations.

A 2005 graduate from Worldwide College of Auctioneering, Kelly is currently a member in good standing with the National Auctioneers Association (NAA), serves as President for the Oregon Auctioneers Association (OAA), and has completed the designations of Benefit Auctioneer Specialist (BAS), Certified Estate Specialist (CES), and the national designation from the Certified Auctioneers Institute (CAI). With her background in Theater Technology, she is an energetic performer who is comfortable in front of audiences of all sizes and enjoys interacting with bidders. So raise your bid number high in the air, and she will make sure you are the successful bidder!

"We're here for your benefit!"

We use specialized planning and fundraising techniques to help you establish your financial goals, work with you to create your most successful benefit auction, encourage community participation and awareness and keep the fun in the FUNdraising experience for everyone!
